Discovery as the Foundation of Planning
Tuesday, May 22, 2018
10:30 a.m. – 11:30 a.m.

This webinar will focus on the qualitative strategy of Discovery as an alternative to comparative assessment. Discovery provides the foundation for all person-centered, person-directed plans by answering the essential question, "Who is this person?" The lens of Discovery relates to the individual's conditions for successful performance, intrinsic interests and strongest contributions. This webinar will provide an overview of the strategies of Discovery, descriptive note-taking, and development of written profile documents. (Registrants will receive information by e-mail regarding the call-in number and code for the Webinar)

Facilitator: Dr. Teresa Callahan began her career in the disabilities field as a teacher of students with complex needs. She taught pre-school children, elementary, middle school and high school students with special needs throughout her public school teaching career. She moved into the administrative field as an Assistant Director of Special Education. In the mid 1980's she began her doctoral studies at Syracuse University in the area of Special Education Administration. She earned her doctoral degree from Syracuse University in 1990. During her years in Syracuse, she worked as a job coach for Vocational Rehabilitation and as a research assistant for the New York State Department of Education. Teresa is now a consultant for Marc Gold & Associates and is involved in the Discovery Certification process.
